

Terms and Conditions for Papers Software

These Terms and Conditions are part of and incorporated into each license agreement for the use of the Papers Software (together the “License Agreement”) licensed by Digital Science & Research Solutions Inc., One Canal Park, Suite 1A, Cambridge, MA 02141, USA (“DSRSI”), to Licensee and if identified in the Order its Authorized Users.

By downloading, installing, copying or otherwise using all or any portion of the Papers Software Licensee agrees to be bound by the terms of this License Agreement. If Licensee does not agree to this License Agreement, Licensee is not permitted to use the Papers Software.

“Papers Software” means the computer programs in machine readable object code form licensed by DSRSI pursuant to this License Agreement including any online services and features, together with the Documentation (all manuals, user documentation and other related materials pertaining to the Papers Software) and/or other materials downloaded by the Licensee or distributed with the Papers Software disk image, CD or any other media containing these materials. “Authorized Users” means all end-users that Licensee intends to grant access to Papers Software. “License Agreement” or “License” means these Terms and Conditions in combination with the order (the “Order”).

1. Grant and Scope of License

1.1 By agreeing to this License Agreement Licensee irrevocably waives, any rights under previous license agreements with DSRSI for Papers Software and unconditionally accepts that its License for the use of current and previous copies of the Papers Software shall be exclusively governed by the Terms and Conditions of this License Agreement. The terms of this License will govern any software upgrades and/or updates provided by DSRSI that replace and/or supplement the original Papers Software, unless such upgrade and/or update is accompanied by a separate license in which case the terms of that License will govern the upgrade and/or update to which it refers.

1.2 DSRSI may offer free updates to Papers Software but DSRSI does not guarantee that any other releases of Papers Software will be made available to Licensee free of charge or that its rights under this License Agreement will automatically be applicable to any future updates, upgrades and/or releases of Papers Software.

1.3 Subject to Licensee’s compliance with the Terms and Conditions, and except as otherwise stated therein, DSRSI may grant Licensee a Demo License, a Commercial License and/or a Campus/Site/Multi-User License.

a) General: Licensee, and if applicable its Authorized Users, are entitled to use Papers Software on a maximum of three (3) devices at a given time. DSRSI may at its sole discretion increase the number of devices. DSRSI may also, at its sole discretion, decide to extend Licensee’s allowed usage of Papers Software beyond the stated uses and will inform Licensee thereof via the website www.papersapp.com or by contacting Licensee by email, by phone or in writing.

b) Demo License: DSRSI grants Licensee a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable, nonassignable, royalty free license to use Papers Software for 30 days from the first time Licensee runs Papers Software. Upon expiration of such period all of or part of the functionality of Papers Software will be disabled automatically. DSRSI may, at its sole discretion, decide to prolong the trial period. If Licensee wishes to use Papers Software after the trial period, Licensee will need to purchase a Commercial License.

c) Commercial License: DSRSI grants Licensee a, limited, non-exclusive, revocable non-assignable and non-transferable License to use Papers Software against payment of the license fee set out in the Order.

d) Campus/Site/Multi-User License

(i) DSRSI grants Licensee a limited, non-exclusive, non-assignable and revocable license to use Papers Software and the right to sublicense the use of the Papers Software to the number of Authorized Users specified in the Order against payment of the license fee set out in the Order provided that the Authorized Users accept the Terms and Conditions of this License Agreement.

(ii) This License gives Licensee the right to make the quantity of copies of the Papers Software as is necessary to distribute the Papers Software to its Authorized Users. All such copies must be authentic and complete copies (including copyright and trademark notices).

(iii) Licensee is obligated to use reasonable efforts to make its Authorized Users aware of the Terms and Conditions upon which they are allowed to run the Papers Software and to ensure that Authorized Users accept the Terms and Conditions of the License Agreement. To this end, Licensee must notify all Authorized Users that (a) Licensee has entered into this License Agreement, (b) they are only licensed to run the Software during the term of this License Agreement and under the Terms and Conditions of the License Agreement.

(iv) Licensee shall use best efforts to ensure that use of the Papers Software is limited to Authorized Users and that all Authorized Users are notified of and comply with the usage restrictions set forth in this License Agreement.

(v) If Licensee becomes aware of any unauthorized use of the Papers Software either by any Authorized User or another user, Licensee shall immediately inform DSRSI and shall take (and keep DSRSI updated on) appropriate steps to ensure that such activity ceases and to prevent its recurrence. Licensee shall also immediately terminate the access of an Authorized User to the Papers Software if he or she is no longer an Authorized User.

2. Online Activation and Personal Information

2.1 Activation of Papers Software may require a License Code, License Key or online account.

2.2 Any given License Code or License Key is considered for Licensee's usage only and may not be distributed, published or otherwise communicated to third parties by Licensee, unless permission to do so is granted to Licensee in writing by DSRSI.

2.3 If Licensee does not activate its copy of Papers Software, all of or part of the functionality of its copy of Papers Software will disable automatically 30 days after Licensee's first run.

Licensee and its Authorized Users are required to submit personal information during online activation. The Privacy Policy of DSRSI (papersapp.com/terms/privacy\_policy.pdf) applies to the use of this personal information. Licensee needs an active, functional internet connection to activate Licensee's copy of Papers Software. The licensed use of Papers Software may be bound to the devices Licensee used to complete activation. Licensee may need to reactivate its copy of Papers Software after replacing the logic board or otherwise changing the hardware configuration of its devices. Licensee may need to contact DSRSI to complete reactivation.

2.4 Unless additional support and maintenance is purchased pursuant to a separate agreement with DSRSI, DSRSI's only support obligations to Licensee are to deliver the then-current version of the Papers Software upon the execution of this License Agreement.

3. Intellectual Property, Restrictions and Modification Rights

3.1 The rights granted in this License Agreement are limited to DSRSI's and its licensors' intellectual property rights in the DSRSI Software and Documentation and do not include any other copyrights or intellectual property rights. DSRSI and/or DSRSI's licensor(s) retain ownership of the intellectual property rights related to the Papers Software. Under no circumstances shall source code of Papers Software be made available to Licensee by DSRSI.

3.2 Unless permitted under applicable law or under this License Agreement, Licensee shall not (and shall not allow any Authorized User, end user or third party to) (a) decompile, disassemble, or otherwise reverse engineer the Papers Software or attempt to discover any source code or underlying ideas or algorithms of the Papers Software, (b) remove any product identification, copyright or other notices embedded within the Papers Software, (iii) modify or create a derivative work of the Papers Software (except as otherwise expressly authorized by DSRSI in writing), (iv) remove or export any Papers Software in violation of applicable laws or regulations, (v) relicense, provide, lease or lend the Papers Software to any third party (except as permitted to Authorized Users under this License Agreement), or use the Papers Software for timesharing or service bureau purposes, (vi) copy the Papers Software or any portion thereof except as permitted under this License Agreement, or (vii) disclose any performance information or analysis (including, without limitation, benchmarks) from any source relating to the Papers Software.

3.3 Licensee is free to replace those libraries and resources included in the Papers Software that are covered explicitly under a License that allows and gives the conditions for such modification. Documentation on which libraries and resources in the Papers Software and are covered by such a License and the applicable conditions can be found through the "About" window in the Papers Software, or can be emailed to Licensee upon request.

3.4 Papers Software may make use of third party software components. Notwithstanding the foregoing, use of some third party software components included in the Papers Software may be subject to other terms and conditions. The official copyright notices and specific license conditions of such third party software components are to be found via the About box of Papers Software or can be emailed to Licensee upon request.

4. License Fee

4.1 Licensee shall pay the fees set forth in the Order (the "License Fees"). All amounts payable by Licensee shall be exclusive of any sales, use, withholding, value added or similar taxes, government fees or levies or other assessments which shall be the sole responsibility of Licensee.

4.2 Fees may apply for additional services and products offered by DSRSI and others, including, but not limited to, services that integrate with Papers Software or extend the functionality of Papers Software. Applicable fees and additional services shall be communicated through the website www.papersapp.com.

5. Termination

5.1 In the event Licensee fails to pay the License Fee and fails to cure such non-payment within 30 days following notice from DSRSI of the non-payment, DSRSI may immediately terminate the License Agreement without further notice.

5.2 DSRSI may immediately terminate this License Agreement without further notice, suspend further activations and/or disable use of the Papers Software if it finds that a) the personal information Licensee has submitted during online activation is incorrect, inaccurate or outdated; b) if it considers the number of activations performed under said License(s) is not in line with the allowed number of activations under the License Agreement. It is Licensee's sole responsibility to keep DSRSI informed of any changes in Licensee's personal information. Licensee may do so by contacting DSRSI through the "Contact" or "Support" sections of the website www.papersapp.com or, if available, from within Papers Software itself. DSRSI may require Licensee to verify any changes to personal information. Furthermore, this License Agreement shall terminate immediately upon notice by DSRSI to Licensee for any breach by Licensee of its obligations under Section 1 (Grant and Scope of License), Section 3 (Intellectual Property, Restrictions and Modification Rights) or Section 7 (Confidentiality).

5.3 Either party may terminate the License Agreement without further notice if the other party materially breaches the License Agreement provided that (1) the non-breaching party has notified and specified the breach in writing to the other party and stated its intention to terminate, and provided that (2) the breach is not cured within 30 days.

5.4 Upon termination of this License Agreement, all rights and licenses granted hereunder to Licensee shall terminate immediately. Immediately upon such termination, Licensee shall (i) cease all use of the Papers Software; (ii) return to DSRSI all copies of the Papers Software, related documentation and any Confidential Information of DSRSI; and (iii) delete all copies of the Papers Software embedded within any device or merged within any other programs or stored on any storage media under Licensee's control. Upon termination of this License Agreement, the provisions of this License Agreement concerning the ongoing interests of the parties shall continue and survive in full force and effect, including without limitation Sections 3, 4, 6, 7 and 8. Termination of this License Agreement shall not release Licensee from any obligation to pay DSRSI any amount which has accrued or become payable at or prior to the date of termination.

6. Warranties, Liability and Indemnification

6.1 Except as specifically provided in this Section 6, DSRSI is providing Licensee Papers Software on an "as-is" basis without warranty of any kind. DSRSI does not and cannot warrant the performance or results Licensee may obtain by use of Papers Software. DSRSI does not warrant that the Papers Software is error-free and DSRSI does not make any express or implied warranties, conditions, or representations to Licensee, any of its Affiliates, or any other party with respect to the Papers Software, the Documentation, or any services provided hereunder or otherwise regarding this License Agreement, whether oral or written, express, implied, or statutory. Without limiting the foregoing, any implied warranty or condition of merchantability, title, non-infringement, or fitness for a particular purpose are expressly excluded and disclaimed.

6.2 The above warranty does not apply if the Papers Software a) has been altered, except by or with explicit written permission of DSRSI, b) has not been installed, operated, repaired or maintained in accordance with the instructions supplied by DSRSI, c) has been subjected to abnormal physical or electrical stress, misuse, negligence or accident.

6.3 To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, DSRSI is not liable to Licensee or to any third party for any damages, either direct, indirect, incidental, consequential or otherwise (including in each case, but not limited to damages arising from inability to use Papers Software or access data, loss of data, loss of business, loss of profits, business interruptions or the like) arising out of the use or inability to use Papers Software even if DSRSI has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

6.4 In no event shall DSRSI's total liability to Licensee exceed the amount of License Fees paid during the year in which the damage has occurred.

6.5 If Papers Software is, or in DSRSI's opinion is likely to become, the subject of a claim of infringement, DSRSI shall have the right, without obligation and at its sole discretion, to: a) procure for Licensee the right to continue to use Papers Software; b) replace or modify Papers Software in such a way as to make the modified version of Papers Software non-infringing; or c) terminate this License Agreement, provided that in the event of such termination, DSRSI shall refund the License fees paid by Licensee on a prorated basis, taking into account the term Papers Software has been used or owned, whichever is longer, by Licensee. The foregoing states DSRSI's and its subsidiaries entire liability and sole obligation to Licensee and Licensee's sole remedy with respect to any actual or alleged infringement of intellectual property rights of any kind.

6.6 Title and intellectual property rights in and to any content displayed by, reproduced with, or accessed through the Papers Software belongs to the respective content owner. Such content may be protected by copyright or other intellectual property laws and treaties, and may be subject to terms of use of the third party providing such content. This License Agreement does not grant Licensee any rights to use such content. For that reason Licensee shall indemnify DSRSI against any form of damage resulting from a third party claim stating that the content infringes any third party intellectual property right or is illegal.

6.7 DSRSI will take commercially reasonable steps to ensure not to use any trademarks of Licensee for promotional purposes, however the Parties agree that any editorial use, i.e. any use of Licensee's company name written in upper and lower case letters, when used in materials or communications solely describing or listing DSRSI's customers, is allowed.

7. Confidentiality

7.1 Confidential Information. The parties agree that (i) the Papers Software, Papers Software functionality, documentation, pricing, discounts and the material terms of this License Agreement are the confidential property of DSRSI, and (ii) any other confidential business, technical, financial or other information disclosed by one party to the other pursuant to this License Agreement is the confidential information of the disclosing party which is either marked “confidential” (or similar legend) or which a reasonable person should know is confidential given the nature of the information (collectively, “Confidential Information”). Except as expressly allowed in Section 7.2 or elsewhere herein, each party shall hold in confidence and shall not use or disclose to any third party any Confidential Information of the other party. The restrictions of this Section shall apply for the greater of (i) the term of this License Agreement and for five years thereafter, (ii) the time period dictated by any applicable law, statute or regulation, or (iii) for any Confidential Information that constitutes a trade secret, as long as such Confidential Information remains a trade secret under applicable law.

7.2 Permitted Disclosures. A party shall not be obligated under Section 7.1 with respect to information that it can document: (i) is or has become readily publicly available without restriction through no fault of such party or its personnel, (ii) is received, without restriction, from a third party lawfully in possession of such information and lawfully empowered to disclose such information, (iii) was rightfully in such party’s possession without restriction prior to its disclosure by the other party, or (iv) independently developed without use of the Confidential Information. If either party is required by law to disclose any Confidential Information of the other party, such party shall provide to the other party prompt notice of such request, to the extent practicable, so that party whose Confidential Information is to be disclosed may seek an appropriate protective order or waive compliance with the provisions of this License Agreement or both. If, absent the entry of a protective order or the receipt of a waiver under this License Agreement, the party so obligated is, in the written opinion of such party’s legal counsel legally compelled to disclose such information, under penalty of liability for contempt or other censure or penalty, such party may disclose such information to the persons and to the extent required without liability under this License Agreement.

8. General

8.1 Unless permitted under this License Agreement, Licensee agrees not to transfer, assign, rent, lease, sublicense, or lend Papers Software to any other person or entity, except as expressly provided in this License Agreement, and that any attempt to do so in any other way shall entitle DSRSI to terminate the License Agreement with immediate effect and to disable use of the Papers Software.

8.2 This License Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, excluding its conflicts of law rules, and the United States of America. Any dispute arising from or relating to the subject matter of this Agreement shall be finally settled by arbitration in Middlesex County, Massachusetts, using the English language in accordance with the Arbitration Rules and Procedures of Judicial Arbitration and Mediation Services, Inc. (“JAMS”) then in effect, by one commercial arbitrator with substantial experience in resolving intellectual property and commercial contract disputes, who shall be selected from the appropriate list of JAMS arbitrators in accordance with the Arbitration Rules and Procedures of JAMS. The prevailing party in any arbitration or other proceeding arising under these Terms of Use shall be entitled to receive reimbursement of its reasonable expenses (including reasonable attorneys’ fees, expert witness fees and all other expenses) incurred in connection therewith. Judgment upon the award so rendered may be entered in a court having jurisdiction or application may be made to such court for judicial acceptance of any award and an order of enforcement, as the case may be. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each party shall have the right to institute an action in a court of proper jurisdiction for injunctive or other equitable relief pending a final decision by the arbitrator. For all purposes of this Agreement, the parties consent to exclusive jurisdiction and venue in the United States Federal Courts or state courts located in the District of Massachusetts.

8.3 Licensee's General Terms and Conditions, delivery and payment conditions or any other general or special conditions shall not be applicable to this License Agreement.

8.4 This License Agreement is the entire agreement between Licensee and DSRSI relating to Papers Software and supersedes all prior oral or written communications and representation with respect to Papers Software or any other subject matter covered by this License Agreement.

8.5 If any of the provisions of this License Agreement is held to be void, unenforceable or illegal, the other provisions shall continue in full force and effect. The affected provision will be construed as limited to the extent necessary to be consistent with and fully enforceable under the applicable law.
